

BEFA. LET YOUR DREAMS TAKE FLIGHT.

Join this unique organization for Boeing employees and retirees. There's really no excuse for NOT learning to fly. Thanks to BEFA, the freedom of flight is within reach.

Conquer new challenges and have fun while doing so. Explore new locations and new perspectives. On a more practical side, flying yourself is a flexible, cost-effective way to travel while avoiding airline hassles and expenses.

BEFA OFFERS:

- Wide selection of well-equipped, professionally maintained aircraft
- Excellent history of safety
- Highly qualified flight instructors (both flight & ground)
- Full-motion flight simulator (reduces cost of initial & recurrent training)
- Web-based resource scheduling
- Approximately 25% lower cost than typical fixed base operators

WHAT'S YOUR EXCUSE?

- "There's no location close to me." Our training is conveniently located at Renton and Paine Fields.
- "It's too expensive." Our per-hour costs are the lowest in the area and, in some instances, Boeing will reimburse employees. Contact us for more details.
- "I really don't need it for my career." Learning to fly can help you reach new heights with your career. Flying is a coveted skill that can help you better understand your profession.
